House gutted in blaze at Ponda:

A house was gutted in a fire which broke out due to a oil lamp which was lit before religious idols at Velap-Kapileshwari in Ponda taluka on Friday evening. The fire also led to a LPG cylinder blast. Ponda fire station official Shailesh Gaude revealed that nobody was present in the house after the owner Shobhavati Naik lit the lamp and had gone out of the house. Suddenly she and some neighbours found fumes and flames coming out of the house. Neighbour Shankar Naik, 20, who ran to douse the fire, fainted when the cylinder exploded. He was later taken to Ponda health center and discharged after primary treatment.

Goa Shipyard Ltd, inaugurated the programme in the presence of A V Chowgule, Chairman SITEG and other dignitaries.

Lauding the SITEG for supporting and partnering GSL in its endeavour to establish a Skill Development Institute under CSR, the CMD GSL said that the success of the project will open up possibilities of its expansion for other trades in ship building core areas such as fabrication, crane operators, marine fitters, etc.

Speaking on the occasion, Chowgule said that such joint initiatives will undoubtedly go a long way in not only honing the skill sets of the youth but also assist in the gainful employment of such skilled manpower created through the project in Goa. It would strengthen the availability of skill sets for shipbuilding in India.
